

Website Privacy Notice

Last Edited on 2025-06-30

This Privacy Notice applies to the processing of data related to the use of the website <https://brenus-pharma.com/> (hereinafter "the Website").

Brenus Pharma as the Controller, hereinafter as "Brenus", "we" or "us", of the personal data, has committed to comply with:

- The General Data Protection Regulation N°EU 2016/679 (hereinafter, the "GDPR");
- And all EU applicable laws and regulations regarding data protection.

Collectively referred as "Data Protection Laws".

With this Privacy Notice, Brenus wants to make sure that you understand what personal information is collected about you, how your personal information is used and how it is kept safe.

General warning and use of social media

Access to the Website implies the User's full and unreserved acceptance of this Privacy Notice (hereinafter the "Notice"), as well as its general terms of use. The User acknowledges having read the information below.

The Notice is valid for all pages hosted on the Website. It is not valid for the pages hosted by third parties to which Brenus may refer and whose privacy notices may differ. Brenus cannot therefore be held responsible for any data processed on these websites or by them. This Notice also applies to any other website that Brenus may operate, including our Company pages on Twitter and LinkedIn.

Please, note that for the use of social media, Brenus will be Joint-Controller with Twitter and LinkedIn only for the following activities: accessing and processing statistical aggregate data provided by Twitter and LinkedIn. For any other processing on the platform, social media platform shall be considered as the sole Data Controller.

LinkedIn have created an "addendum" to their user agreements for company pages for the processing for which they are Joint-Controllers with us. Such agreement is not currently provided by Twitter.

1. Why, how and for how long do we collect your personal data?

Depending on the purpose for which we process your personal data, we need to process one or other personal data. We will keep them for no longer than necessary to fulfill the purposes for which we collected it, including any legal requirements.

2. Use of Cookies by Brenus

Cookies are small text files that are placed on your computer by websites that you visit. They are widely used in order to make websites work, or work more efficiently, as well as to provide information to the owners of the site.

Cookies can be classified as follows, depending on the owner:

- First-party cookies: They are created, sent to your device and stored by the website you are visiting directly. They allow Brenus to collect customer analytics data, remember language settings, and carry out other useful functions that help provide a good user experience.
- Third-party cookies: They are created and placed by third parties other than the website you are visiting directly. They are not managed by Brenus, but by the third party that processes the data obtained from the cookies.

Please note that Brenus only uses cookies that are strictly necessary on the website. These are cookies that are essential to provide the service to the individual, for example cookies that relate to the specific functionality of the service and without which the user would not be able to undertake certain activities.

3. Data sharing

We do not sell or trade to outside parties your personal data.

Nevertheless, Brenus has contracted with the following Services Providers to manage the Website that may have access to your personal data:

- Lets-up for hosting.

Sharing your personal data as explained above may involve a transfer of personal data to a country outside the European Economic Area (EEA). Brenus is therefore committed to complying with the transfer rules under applicable Data Protection Laws and therefore ensure to:

- Transfer your data to countries where the data recipient is located that has been recognized as adequate by the European Commission; or
- Where a country has not received an adequacy decision from the European Commission, to implement appropriate safeguards, such as the EU Standard Contractual Clauses ("SCCs").

You can contact our Data Protection Officer, hereinafter as DPO, (see contact details below), if you want to have more details about the mechanism supporting data transfer.

4. How do we protect your information?

Brenus treats your personal data in a confidential manner and provides for a sufficient and adequate level of protection of your personal data.

Your personal data are contained behind secured networks and are only accessible by a limited number of persons who have special access rights to such systems and are required to keep the information confidential.

5. Your rights

According to the GDPR, you have the following rights subject to limitation as set forth by applicable data protection law:

- Access. You have the right to obtain confirmation as to whether or not personal data concerning you are being processed, and, where that is the case, information related to the processing of data and a copy of the data being processed.
- Rectification. You have the right to require rectification of inaccurate or incomplete data about you.
- Right to be forgotten. To obtain the deletion of your personal data under certain specified circumstances.
- Restrict processing. You have the right to restrict processing of data under certain specified circumstances.
- Data portability. You have the right to request for the receipt or the transfer to another organization, in a machine-readable form, of your personal data.
- Object to processing. You have the right to object, on grounds relating to your particular situation, at any time to the processing of your data.
- Right to withdraw consent. When you have given your explicit consent for the processing of your data, you can withdraw it at any time without any cost nor justification.

Please note that all these rights are not absolute and will be assessed on a case-by-case basis by our DPO.

If you would like to exercise your rights, please let us know by contacting our DPO, brenus.dpo@mydata-trust.info.
